

Heavy-Duty solutions for Logistics Sector

B2 Flex is a proud Saudi manufacturer and a leading provider of engineered solutions for the logistics, transport, and supply-chain sector across the Middle East. We specialize in bespoke PVC-based systems designed to support critical logistics operations, asset protection, and infrastructure requirements across warehouses, distribution centers, and transport networks.

Using advanced high-frequency welding technology, our products deliver exceptional mechanical strength, chemical resistance, UV stability, and long-term durability — ensuring reliable performance in demanding logistics environments, from outdoor storage yards to high-traffic handling zones.

Our solutions are deployed across logistics hubs, freight terminals, warehouses, transport fleets, and industrial service facilities, providing robust containment, environmental protection, and operational efficiency for high-volume, high-risk applications.

Trusted by major industry leaders including Aramco and SABIC, B2 Flex upholds the highest standards of quality and consistency — delivering precision-engineered products that enhance safety, reduce operational risks, and support seamless logistics and supply-chain operations.
